

Notes:

<Disc 1 / broadcast B>

After the listening, it turned out that Carville's post and the disc 1 of my copy were from the same (probably re-) broadcast.

As C's copy sounded plain superior to mine did (clearer, brighter highs, no hum), I included his as D1 with some editing.

[editing] 1. C's three tracks were combined back w/ WaveLab Lite.

2. Missing snippets of the beginning/intro (13 sec) and the ending/outro (4 sec) were taken from my copy, had their levels decreased by 3dB to match with C's, and appended to C's copy.

(w/ WaveLab Lite; you will hear the sound quality change at the splice.)

3. SBEs fixed w/ shntool. 4. Re-tracked w/ CDwave.

<Disc 2 / broadcast A>

This broadcast seems to be older and to have aired the complete session as judged by Naura's announcements - unless there was something he didn't announce.

The setlist of the original session would be:

1. Walking Woman (C. Bley) / Ida Lupino (C. Bley)
2. Walking Woman / Watermusic (P. Warren)
3. Nagasvarum (P. Warren) / Walking Woman
4. Castrum Dolores (O. Thilo)
5. Rawalpindi Blues (C. Bley)
6. Walking Woman
7. [encore?] Walking Woman

Some tracks (1, 2, 5) are missing in my copy of D2. They must have been left out at some point, probably because the D1 has the better sounding version of them.

Although D1T4 and D2T2 are the same track, I included D2T2 1) as it was there and 2) to give the idea how C's copy sounds better. D2T2 runs slower also.

A certain list dates this on Feb 22, 1972.
